The farmers need have no fear in regard to water, for irrigating purposes, this season, as there will be plenty of it for all, and some to spare.

The Assessor will have a good deal of patented land to assess. Great care should be taken in regard to describing property so as to make it legal.

Everything remains very quiet about the court house, and the county officers and attorneys are getting lazy. Somebody stir up a calf suit or a mare suit, so the boys can wake up.

It is reported that a Texas outfit will put in 10,000 head of cattle on the head of Black River, or at what is known as Horton's ranch. If cattle will winter at this place we can safely vouch for its being a splendid range. The ranch contains twenty locations and covers a large tract of country.

Come one, come all, and subscribe for the St. Johns HERALD, only four dollars per year, just twice its actual value; the great religious weekly and the only genuine second-class newspaper in Arizona. Full of baldheaded jokes, jim crow locals and patent medicine advertisements and religious news of the staid character. It is printed on an Armstrong power press, old style and has a general circulation in the house of Lords. Office in the sub-basement of the county poor house. Correspondence is not solicited. Subscriptions strictly on credit.

A Tucson undertaker named Smith holds the corpse of a Captain Jinks, who recently died in Tucson, as collateral for a debt of $700 owing him by the deceased. Jinks had a policy of $13,000 on his life. The name of Smith is an honorable one and dates back to the days of Moses who had a footman by the name of John Smith, who had seven wives, and from this family the several Smiths of the present day sprung. Many Smiths have gained world-wide reputation, and one even became a prophet and revelator, and was only excelled in this line by Christ. This was Joe. Joe was also a slick talker and a successful confidence man, and a direct descendant of the footman heretofore referred to. The Smiths have always bore a good reputation as sharp business men, but we never heard of one who would take perishable goods for collateral before. Of Jinks we know little, the authorities not being very elaborate on him, further than the national air of New York was composed about him.

From the Prescott Journal we learn that a number of Mormons, who have been indicted for polygamy, and whose cases came up at the late term of court in Maricopa county, have jumped their bail and left the country. A number of gentiles who were their sureties, are losers to a considerable extent. These blokes are the honest, law-abiding citizens (?) spoken of in the small "pox sheet over which Elder Milner is the guardian angel. They are a fine gang to whine persecution; after getting some simple minded gentiles, with more sympathy than sense, to go on their bonds, then they skip out and leave them to hold the sack; a fine lot of sneezers to claim honesty for. Hell is full of just these kind of sanctified roosters. As for the gentle victim of misplaced confidence, it serves him right.

The Flagstaff Champion is opposed to selling liquor to miners. It does not give its reasons further than it is the law, although we have failed to see such a section. Why the miner should be deprived of his liquor any more than others we fail to see. Their labor is the hardest and trying on the constitution, and should any class of men need a stimulant it is the miner. We think Bro. Fay that it is a little early for a prohibition boom to be a success in Arizona. More Methodist preachers and broken down politicians, short haired women and cranks are needed to successfully inaugurate such a boom, and even then it is a hazardous undertaking. A good starter might be had from the members of the late etc., but then it would gain but a local reputation.

A story comes to us to the effect that some parties killed and also pitifully wounded a large number of sheep in the neighborhood of the Wabash Cattle Co's ranch at the Salt Lakes. The sheep belonged to a Navajo Indian and were under the charge of a harmless old squaw, who was not grazing them on any ones range and was watering them at public water. We don't think that the Indians should be allowed to graze their stock off their reservation, which is a very large one, but we deprecate the killing and maiming of dumb brutes as a penalty for their owners misdeeds. If the Indians, or anyone else, trespass on private lands there is a law to prevent them, which is just as effective and much better than the six-shooter or rifle.

A pauper recently died here, and the manner of his burial was a disgrace to a civilized community. Instead of being furnished with a box and given a decent burial, as would have been the lowest criminal, he was wrapped in his blanket and chucked into a hole like a post. Our citizens would not have let such an outrage on human decency occurred had they known it in time. In view of the fact that $300 to $400 is quarterly allowed to the pauper fund and a salary paid to the overseer of the poor, we are in accord with the severe criticisms and condemnation, of such an act, of the people.

Notice.—I hereby give notice to the parties, who burglariously entered my store a few nights ago, that if they will return the property taken by them no questions will be asked, but if the same is not returned within a reasonable length of time, after the publication of this notice, they will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law, as the parties who committed the theft are known to me. I take this method of giving the parties an opportunity to settle the matter without further publicity.

H. F. BANTA.

The appointment of inspectors of cattle are to be made by the governor of the territory, at such convenient points as he may deem proper, subject to the restriction that the inspector must be "as near as possible to the frontier," and "first recommended by the stock association of his district."

Hon. H. E. Lacey, former post trader at Ft. Apache and ex-Councilman of this county, has purchased the sutler's store at Ft. Bayard, N. M. Mr. Lacey's many army acquaintances will be pleased to learn that he has gone back to the post trader business again.

Polygamists who appear to think they can bribe Congress to take Utah into the Union are fooling themselves. Congress dare not do such a thing, and if they did that would not save the "relie." The foul practice must be stopped.—Prescott Courier.

Mormon Mob.

A mob at St. Johns, Apache county, recently threatened an attack upon the Orion Era, a Mormon journal published in that camp. The Record does not sympathize with Mormonism, no more does it with mobs. *—(Tombstone Record).

The above canard has been going the rounds of the press for the past fortnight and like a snow-ball has grown larger and become more exaggerated as it rolls along. The Orion Era, the Mormon church organ, has allowed it to go uncontradicted probably with the expectation of getting sympathy from outsiders, who from reading these reports, would think that the Mormons were living in a place where rowdism and mob violence was an every day occurrence. This is the style of these law-breaking and law-defying class of people, making a mountain out of a mole-hill on all occasions, and we would not be surprised to hear that the matter has been harangued, by their priests, throughout Utah, and the Mormon residents of St. Johns held up as a persecuted community. The facts are simply that some malicious miscreant threw a bottle through the window of the Orion Era office and also broke some of the windows of the Mormon meeting-house which we iterate was an outrage, but when it comes to create the impression that it was the work of a mob the idea is simply preposterous. This is only one of their many schemes to create a philanthropic sympathy from those unacquainted with them or their beastly habits.

Some newspapers are advising our Mormon brethren to alter their habits and become decent citizens. We would suggest that if they would alter the leading spirits of their organization and adopt a civilized religion they would get along peaceably in any country.

On account of more interesting matter we have been obliged to omit our regular weekly articles on Mormonism, however, we promise that it will not occur again and we will make-up for this seeming neglect in our subsequent issues.

The last issue of Elder Milner's Orion Era is before us, but want of time prevents us from perusing it carefully, however, we have placed the interesting little sheet carefully away and next week we will dissect the animal.

The "O'Ryan Era" is the most fearfully and wonderfully made up paper in the Territory. As a sample of Later Day Journalism, it may be considered a unique success.—Phoenix Herald.

And still the good work goes on. Out of thirty-six cases brought before the U. S. District Court in Utah, twenty-six indictments were found, against the saints for polygamy. The Mormons must go to the penitentiary.

C. L. Gutterson, Apache county's prosecuting attorney, will soon make a trip to his mountain ranch, where he will make valuable improvements.

Feeders or Beef—Which?

A question of more than common importance to the cattlemen of the great plains is that which stands at the head of this article. Are the great fattening grounds of the north to be used for the purpose of producing beef steers for the markets of the world, or are they only to be productive of feeders for the grain growing section to the east of us? Time was when every bullock brought in from our ranges in the autumn were prime beef, good enough for any market. But that time is no longer with us. Why? Because we have put to many cattle on the range.

The question for practical cowmen to solve is whether it is more profitable to crowd the range and turn off more feeders, at a lower price, or fewer beef steers at a higher price. Theoretically, perhaps, there may be more money in the larger number and lower price, but practically, is it true? Are not the risks enough greater under the system of crowded ranges to more than balance any possible advantage in increased numbers?

Would not this be a pertinent question for general discussion at the approaching annual meeting of our stock owners?—[Cheyenne Journal.
